Englander Resigns As President Appomattox Garment Co.; Fred Lawson To Take Over

Robert A. Englander, president and director of the Appomattox Garment Co., Inc., and the Lynn Manufacturing Co., Inc., today announced his resignation from the two companies and the sale of his financial interest in them, effective December 31, 1958.

The Appomattox Garment Company operates as a contract manufacturer of children's dresses, with plants in Appomattox, Lynchburg, and Altavista. The Lynn Manufacturing Company located in Lynchburg, is a cloth-cutting operation servicing the Appomattox Company's manufacturing plants.

Englander said he is not ready to announce his future plans, but would serve as a consultant to the two companies on a tempoarry basis after the first of the year. Succeeding him in management of the companies are two associates, who have been actively directing the companies' operations for the past six months.

They are Fred Fred H. Lawson, Appomattox, vice president and treasurer, who will become president and treasurer on January 1, 1959, and Mrs. Evelyn C. Bailey, vice president, who will remain in that capacity in charge of the Lynchburg divisions of the company.

Englander became associated with the Appomattox Garment Company in December, 1948, when it consisted of a single plant operation in Appomattox, employing approximately 100 persons. The company now operates three plants and, with the Lynn Manufacturing Company, employs more than 700 persons.

Englander has been active in business and civic organizations, and currently is serving his second term as president of Central Virginia Industries, Inc.

He is a member of the Southern Garment Manufacturers Association, and has participated as a speaker and panel member in a number of industrial relations forums.

A native of New York City, Englander is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He served as an aviator in the Navy in World War II. A member of the First Presbyterian Church of Lynchburg, he resides with his wife, and two sons at 3621 Manton Drive.

Tobacco Vote On Dec. 15

Flue-cured tobacco growers will vote Monday, Dec. 15, on marketing quotas for the next three crops, W. D. Hix, III, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded farmers today. Growers eligible to vote in the referendum are all those who produced flue-cured tobacco in 1958. Growers who included 1958 flue-cured tobacco acreage in the Soil Bank Acreage Reserve or Conservation Reserve, or whose acreage allotment was reduced under section 377 of the Act are also eligible to cast ballots.

"The decision to be made in the quota referendum is a simple one," stated," Chairman Hix declared. "If approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting, the law provides that marketing quotas—with penalties on 'excess' tobacco marketed, acreage allotments, and price supports at 90 per cent of parity will be in effect for the 1959 crop."

Notices of individual farm acreage allotments will be mailed soon to farm operators so that they may know in advance of the vote how the quotas will affect their farming operations in 1959.

ECONOMISTS MAKE PREDICTIONS FOR BUSINESS IN 1959

"Recession," a key word in the general economic forecast this time last year, will be absent from most discussions of business conditions during 1959.

Agricultural economists at VPI say economic indicators point to a continued recovery of business activity during the next several months. The annual rate of production of goods and services is expected to increase to about $450 billion by the end of 1958. During 1959, further rises in the nation's total production will likely occur, with the annual rate nearing a new peak of $475 billion, or slightly higher, before the end of the year.

The main economic problem facing the nation now is how to maintain this economic growth without destroying its beneficial effect through inflation, the economists say.

Although the outlook for improvement in business activity is impressive, the gains will probably not be enough to ease fully the existing unemployment, and a part of the expected $25 billion rise will be associated with a further decline in the value of the dollar. A part of the economic growth in terms of dollars, the economists explain, will be a result of higher prices for goods and services rather than an increase in the amount of goods and services produced.

Purchases of services and "soft" goods will show the largest absolute gain in 1959, despite some expected decline in food prices. Proportionately, however, demand will be stronger in durable goods. A revival in automobile buying is expected. Recent changes in residential financing arrangements should provide a step-up in the rate of housing construction, which, in turn, will increase the purchases of household furnishings.

A recent survey of plans to invest shows that the recent decline in capital spending by businessmen has about reached its low point, with good prospects for a modest upturn late this year. The tempo of spending for producers' durable equipment and industrial construction should increase in 1959. Private industrial investments will shift from plant expansion to investments for improved methods. In addition, the heavy liquidation of inventories during 1958 will require substantial capital outlays for restocking in 1959.

Government spending will rise. There is no indication of a slackening of the recent annual $3 billion rate of increase in state and local government spending. The demand for schools, highways, hospitals, water and sanitary facilities, and other services continues to grow at a rate above that caused by population increase. Likewise, a rise in federal spending is certain as indicated by the authorization of nearly $7 billion by the last Congress for hospitals, housing, highways, military, and urban improvement construction.

The recession of 1957-58 was a period of readjustment, as the economists see it. "As we approach 1959, there are good grounds for confidence that economic growth will be resumed without delay, and expansion of the economy will be sustained for some years to come," they say.

NEWS REPORT OF TOWN MAYOR

To the Citizens of
The Town of Appomattox:

During the past week there has been considerable improvement concerning the speeding through the school zone and on Church Street. It is most gratifying to know that this improvement has not been the result of any summons that were issued but has been the result of the cooperation of you fine people. When operating a motor vehicle, let's everyone do our best to drive it in the safest manner that we can, and adhere to the traffic ordinances.

The Christmas season is approaching and I certainly hope that you generous citizens will again express your appreciation to our efficient and sincere Volunteer Firemen for the services they render our community. Mr. E. T. Mitchell is heading up the drive and I want to thank him for the wonderful job he has done in the past and for the fine job I am sure he will do this year. Your donations will be greatly appreciated by the Fire Chief and all of his men. I plead with all of you to participate in this Christmas gift.

During the cold weather and winter months, I am sure that all of us are going to exert our efforts to keep warm. Please keep the fact in mind that an overheated furnace or stove can be very dangerous. If this fact is remembered at all times I am sure that we will hear fewer sounds of the firm alarm.

During the month of December, the Town Budget for next year will be presented and approved by the Town Council. In the event any of you good people have any items that you think should be included in the budget, I can assure you that they will be given due consideration if you will notify any member of the council, or your mayor before Dec. 15th.

Your continued cooperation and diligent efforts toward both our "Safety" and "Clean-up" campaigns are deeply appreciated by all concerned.

Your counsel and advice on all public matters are welcomed at all times.

Sincerely,
C. T. Moses, Jr.
Mayor, Town of Appomattox.
